

Overall Conference Purpose Statement

Being in an ever changing health care system, we know the challenges elders face navigating the medical world as their health declines and their social networks narrow. They become vulnerable and more susceptible to stress, mental health issues, isolation and even addiction. They may also fall prey to scams or individuals looking for some financial gain. Case managers need to have a full complement of resources at their disposal in order to best care for our vulnerable and frail seniors and provide them with the services they need to keep them safely in their home and healthy. The "Case Manager's Safety Net: Identifying Elders at Risk" is designed to address these specific needs of elders who would like to remain at home, providing case managers with current resources needed to effectively manage this at risk population.
