

SPEAKER BIOGRAPHY

Jenny Quigley-Stickney, MSN, MHA, MA, RN, CCM, ACM-RN, CPHM, FCM is a professional case manager with Cape Cod Healthcare. Jenny has been active with both CMSA and CMSNE for over 25 years serving as the President of CMSNE & Chair for both CMSA and CMSNE Public Policy Committees. She is currently serving as CMSA Treasurer and prior to this role served as Board of Directors for CMSA National. She is the incoming President-Elect for CMSA and will begin her term in June 2025. She is active in the New England states promoting the advancement of the Nurse Licensure Compact, and Telehealth legislation for health care provision. She has a passion for public policy and believes that legislation helps advance the field of professional case management. She has been employed at all levels of the transitions of care, working with traumatic brain injury, stroke and spinal cord for over 25 years. During that time, she provided professional case management for inpatient rehab, hospital-based home care, and outpatient rehab care. She recently has shifted her work back to her first love, acute care, focusing on vascular and trauma care.
