

Maine Needs:

Our focus began in 2018 with asylum seeking mothers raising young children in a new country. That's what initially pulled at our hearts but soon we realized that the needs of asylum-seeking mothers in Maine were the same basic needs that so many individuals and families had. Our focus now is helping families and individuals, both housed and unhoused, Mainer or immigrant throughout Maine. Almost every family we are connected to is struggling to afford cleaning supplies, toiletries, and clothes for their growing kids, let alone art supplies, toys, children's books, diapers, wipes, winter gear, sunscreen, tick spray etc. We work with people leaving domestic violence, people leaving incarceration, often immediately becoming homeless, veterans, asylum seekers, refugees, families, kids and any individual in need of the items we collect.
